

Australian Capital Territory

Mohammad Omar Maroof

22 years old | Afghan

Student, IT enthusiast, sportsman, compassionate advocate, avid learner and active volunteer.

Omar is currently undertaking a Bachelor of Politics and International Relations at University of Canberra and has a part time job with a major IT company. Previously, Omar worked supporting youth engagement with Multicultural Youth Services (MYS) in Canberra and as a volunteer with youth services, including Youth Coalition, to support young people from refugee and migrant backgrounds to address challenging issues. Omar has experience acting as a critical support for young people from diverse backgrounds and helping them access important information and services. When Omar is not working, studying, volunteering or on the soccer pitch, you will find him practising his off-spin for the upcoming cricket season, watching documentaries or debating world politics with friends.

Youth Ambassador for Australian Capital Territory (from December 2015 to December 2017)
