

Youth Ambassador Profile

Queensland

Paul Joseph

22 years old | South Sudanese

Student, volunteer, multicultural youth rights champion, passionate advocate of cross-cultural dialogue, community organiser, globe trotter.

Paul is currently a Bachelor of International Tourism and Hotel Management student at Griffith University and youth worker at Access Community Services supporting sports, arts and mentoring programs for young people. Paul is a passionate advocate for young multicultural Queenslanders' rights, representing Australia at the United Nations Youth summit in 2015 as the Chairperson of a newly established group called Multicultural Youth Queensland Council in Logan and a youth leader with the Queensland African Communities Council (QACC). Paul participated in the MYAN Queensland Follow My Lead youth conference (2013) and MYAN Australia FUSE Conference in 2014.

Youth Ambassador for Queensland (from December 2015 to December 2017)